

Chan Cheow Hoe
Senior Advisor, Digital Industries
Singapore Economic Development Board

Government Chief Digital Technology Officer
Smart Nation and Digital Government Office, & Deputy Chief Executive

Cheow Hoe was appointed Senior Advisor, Digital Industries to the Singapore Economic Development Board on 1 February 2023. He is also concurrently the Government Chief Digital Technology Officer (GCDTO) of the Smart Nation and Digital Government Office (SNDGO).

As the GCDTO, Cheow Hoe oversees the development of the Government's digital infrastructure and digital technology capability, as well as talent development in information and communication technology and smart systems (ICT&SS). He will also oversee the development of platforms to enable resource sharing and interoperability across Government, so as to drive the development and delivery of innovative government digital services for citizens and businesses.

In his role as Senior Advisor, he partners the Digital Industry Singapore (DISG) leadership team to execute the long-term vision for Singapore's digital industry. He is also involved in anchoring new projects for technology companies in Singapore by leveraging his networks. In addition, he supports DISG's work in developing and expanding the community of builders and tech professionals in Singapore's digital industry.

Cheow Hoe has more than two decades of extensive experience both in the public and private sectors, with a strong track record in leading digital transformation changes in organisations and the government.

Prior to joining SNDGO, Cheow Hoe held senior appointments in international banks and consulting companies in the areas of technology, operations, finance and business.

Cheow Hoe graduated from the National University of Singapore, and obtained his masters from Wharton School.
