

Herman Loh joined the Singapore Economic Development Board (EDB) in 2019. He is the Senior Vice-President & Head of Region covering the markets of Southeast Asia and Oceania. He is concurrently the Senior Vice-President & Deputy Executive Director of Digital Industry Singapore (DISG), the single interface of the Singapore Government for the Infocomm and Media industry, that aims to encourage technology companies to create competitive products and services from Singapore for Asia, and for the world.

Until October 2025, he was the Senior Vice-President & Head of Region covering the markets of South Asia, Middle East, and Africa. He was previously a Vice-President of the Conglomerates Division.

Prior to joining EDB, Herman spent over a decade in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MFA), with a focus on the Southeast Asia region. He has also covered the Middle East and South Asia regions during his MFA career. He was posted to the Singapore Embassy in Jakarta from 2009 to 2012, before being appointed as Special Assistant to the Minister for Foreign Affairs & Minister for Law.

Herman graduated from University College, London, with a BSc and MSc in Economics.

He is married with two children. He enjoys tennis, cricket, and scuba diving and has dreams of his children sharing his passion for these while his joints still allow him to do so. He has started dabbling in pickleball.
