

Chan Ih-Ming
Executive Director and Head, Digital Industry Singapore (DISG)

Singapore Economic Development Board

Ih-Ming is the Executive Director and Head of Digital Industry Singapore (DISG) – the joint office between the Singapore Economic Development Board (EDB), Enterprise Singapore (EnterpriseSG) and Infocomm Media Development Authority (IMDA).

At DISG, Ih-Ming leads the team to uncover opportunities with foreign and local tech companies in Singapore to build a strong ecosystem, with initiatives around building up tech talent and creating value from Singapore. He spearheads strategic efforts to build resiliency and vibrancy into the tech sector, ensuring a thriving, robust, and growing industry.

Previously, Ih-Ming played leadership roles at the Ministry of Communications and Information (MCI) as Director (Industry), and various divisions at the Singapore EDB, where he was also based in the Silicon Valley Office in California for over 5 years, leading teams responsible for facilitating investments in sectors ranging from Energy, Technology, Biomedical Sciences, Aerospace and Electronics.

He is a Sloan Fellow (2014) from the MIT Sloan School of Management and has biomedical engineering degrees from both Brown University and Stanford University.
